Elder of the month: James Herring

He Ran

The rich young ruler ran. I'd always missed that detail. Mark not only records the conversation between Jesus and the rich young ruler, but he adds that while Jesus was walking in the way, the rich young ruler ran to Jesus and knelt before him to ask, "Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?" (Mark 10:17). Mark is a gospel of action. "Immediately" is a key word that appears repeatedly throughout the book. It is no surprise that he recorded the ruler's eagerness to ask Jesus his question.

Had he known Jesus' answer, would he have been quite so eager? The text does not reveal exactly what the young man had in mind. Perhaps he was ready to do something great for Jesus. Perhaps he would have been ready to give a large sum of money. Whatever he was prepared to do, he wasn't ready to give it all.

Whatever I hold back from Jesus, that is what I must be ready to surrender to Him. Hobbies, friendships, possessions, even family must all take second place to my commitment to Christ. Jesus calls me to be ready to die for Him. I must take up my cross daily and follow Him (Luke 9:23).

There is nothing at all wrong with running to Jesus and kneeling before Him. I must be ready to take up my cross, too.

Chris Graham
