Elder of the month: Mike Tinius

What Is Important?

It is interesting to notice reactions. When one is faced with cancer or some other life-threatening diagnosis, one may focus on the suffering involved, and become bitter. Another may focus on salvation, and prepare for eternity. Both reactions are selfish. The second just understands what is important.

In Luke 15 Jesus emphasized what is important. Ninety-nine sheep surely had their problems, but the shepherd sought the one who was lost. Perhaps the woman's nine coins could have used polishing, but she lit a lamp and swept the whole house to find the one. There was a problem between the father and the elder brother. The elder brother's issue was that his father had proper priorities, and he did not. Both should have been rejoicing over the prodigal's return.

How did you prepare to attend worship this morning? Laying out your "church clothes," studying the text for the Bible study, making sure there was gas in the vehicle, and writing out your contribution check are all important. Did you do the most important thing? Did you invite someone to join you in worship this morning? Don't lose focus. Tell someone about Jesus and his salvation today. In eternity that is what will have been most important.

Chris
